Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

- a. Claims 1- 4 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pipasik. Pipasik discloses a bench (24) having a base supported by the ground, a leverage bar (64) suspended below the bench by a pivot connection and a weight bar (66) at the end and gripping handles (84). As to claim 2, the language has not been given patentable weight because the recitations are purely functional in nature and do not recite any structure. As to claim 3, the handles support a head rest and leg roll (fig. 1). As to claim 4, the second end of the leverage bar supports a counterweight bar (116). As to claim 8, the bench is adjustable on an incline (fig. 1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

- b. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pipasik as applied to claim 1 above and further in view of Barnes. Pipasik discloses all of the limitations of the claimed invention except for a pivotable knee roll. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Pipasik in view of Barnes et al such that a movable knee roll provides flexibility to the user.
- c. Claims 6-7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pipasik as applied to claim 4 above and further in view of Forcillo. Pipasik does not teach a pair of handgrips at the second end of the bench and an adjustable knee roll. Forcillo teaches hand grips at an end of the bench. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include additional hand grips on a bench such that hand grips provide a stable grip for a user while exercising.
